Conferring of Honorary Law Degree on Admiral Sims Is Taken As Being Answer by Barrows to Late Attack

BERKELEY, March 23. - Before more than 10,000 persons who filled the Greek Theater to overflowing, the University of California celebrated the fifty-fifth anniversary of its founding today by paying the highest tribute in its power to Rear Admirai William Snowden Sims, U. S. N., retired, and Elihu Root, secretary of the navy under Theodore Roosevelt.

Admiral Sims and Root, the former standing with the erect dignity of a navy officer and the latter stooped and gray under the weight of his 78 years, were each presented with the hood of the doctor of laws, representing the highest honorary degree within the gift of the state university. President David P. Barrows made both presentations in the name of the university and paid glowing tributes to the lives and works of the two distinguished men. DEGREE TO ROOT

While the conferring of an honorary degree on the Charter Day speaker is a usual courtesy extended by the university, the honoring of Root came as a distinct surprise feature of the program. Root was also a guest at last year's Charter Day exercises and has evinced a deep interest in the affairs of the University of California. Both men were given unusual ovations as they rose to receive the academic hoods, the insignia of the degree conferred

Two gifts not previously announced by the regents were included in a list of more than 200 benefactions. These were donations by two Eastbay residents, one of $10,000 from Mrs. Helen Critienden Loveland, of Berkeley, to establish the Crittenden Andrus Loveland memorial scholarship, and the other a pledge of $5800 to be raised by Mark L. Requa, Oakland capitalist, for the purchase of a famous library on Nanoleon. Requa supplements the gift-pledge with a valuable collection of French pamphlets. Prominent among the gifts as read by Dr. Barrows were bequestsof $500,000 from Mrs. Sophronia Hooper, of San Francisco, for the support of the Hooper foundation and of an unnamed sum, but which is estimated at almost a half million dollars, from William Randolph Hearst, for a building to replace Hearst hall, destroyed by fire on the campus last year. Dr. Barrows, as retiring president of the state university, shared in the honors of today's exercises. As the president rose to open the last Charter Day program over which he will preside as chief execulive of the state university, he was greeted with turnultuous applause. > Foreign Minister Of China Resigns

PEKING, March 23 - (By The Associated Press) - Huang Fu has his resignation from the portfolio of foreign minister, because, it is said, of the criticism to which the government has been formerly presided over the senate of the southern republic at Canton, is mentioned as a possible successor to Huang.

Parliament scored the government for not simply declaring the treaty abrogated, instead of sending a note to Japan.

Six-Store Buying Power Means All This to You

- ¶ It means a Better Garment—because Roos can demand and obtain many important corrections and betterments in linings, trimmings, details of tailoring and finishing. Our large orders cause makers to be willing to furnish these improvements.
- It means Low Prices—because our tremendous orders result in very low wholesale prices. Also, our tremendous volume of sales keeps very small the "overhead" on each individual garment.
- It means More Satisfaction—because, being such a large institution, we can have a liberal policy about adjustment in the rare cases where there is dissatisfaction. We replace or refund instantly. In fact, you can "Write your own Guarantee" at any Roos store. Our only question ever is: "What can we do to please you?"

They retain the style-lines longer

IKE attracts like. You have certain well-defined tastes. You like your possessions to be distinctive, to have characteristics that express your individuality. That's why you'll like Roos suits. It isn't necessary to say much about the style: it's there, you can see it. You can also see the fine needlework, the high quality of tailoring, and the good woolens. The hidden details are as good as the things you see. All together, Roos-built clothes satisfy your exacting good judgment and your good taste. They are "your kind of clothes." Ecce Homo," by Brother Lee, F. S. C., Well Acted Narrative Drama.

By WOOD SOANES

"Ecce Home," a new Passion Play by Brother Leo, E. S. C., was presented for the first time by the Student Players of St. Mary's College last night in the Alumni Gymnasium and proved to be a psychological study of the effects of the presence and teachings of the Christ on three men of different temporaments.

Pontius Pilate, starmed about the illness of his wife and worried about his position with the Roman government; Prodicus, his friend a Roman philosopher; and Salathiel, a Hobrew high priest and man of medicine, gather on the roof of Pilate's house and discuss the Man.
In this discussion some will find the weakness of the play as a dramatic endeavor as two acts are pure narrative with never a trace of drama and in the third and ourth acts when drama does find its way into the manuscript an anti-climax has the effect of narring the whole.

Brother Lee has not attempted to rival the other Passion Plays wickshire, are entertained every there is no sitempt at scenle day by a wireless concert received splender and the simplicity of the setting makes for greater interest in the message of the author who has gone back to the Greeks for his style of writing, preserving the unities.

The play opens with Pilate and Prodicus discussing the works of the Christ. They are on the roof of Pilate's house and from the streets below come the murmurs and shouts of the mob which seeks the life of the Nazarene. This sinister note is carried throughout

in the first scene and the major portion of the second scene. The third act begins to move more rap-idly with little trying to shift the responsibility and being taunted by his friend for his lack of moral strength.

Then comes a glorious fourth act in which Pilate makes his impassioned appeal to the mob for the Christ and finds to his dismay that they prefer Barrabas. The picture of the indecisive Roman standing on the balcony and attempting to sway the rabble from its purpose is the finest in the

With his failure to accomplish his purpose and the signing of the death warrant the end comes quickly. Salathlel enters to con-firm by a nod of the head that Pilate's wife has died. This is the logical ending of the play for Pliate falls in a swoon and the grouping of the players is perfect. Instead, however, Brother Leo chose to introduce three speeches by Prodicus, James and Sainthiel which have value as religious propaganda but are undramatic.

Acceptably Acted "Ecce Homo" is acceptably acted by the students with Claude T. Silva lacking only maturity in his conception of Pilate, but giving an otherwise Capable performance; Milion J. Coghlan inclined to the elecutionary and to certain tricks of acting but was clear-voiced and impressive; and John P. Brock fawning and trembly as Salathlel, a well drawn picture. Others in the play who creditable performances were Albert Westlake, George P. Rotenkolder, Neel A. Troy, James E. Reberts, Eugeno Boyle, Ignatius McVey, Louis V. Pometta, John B. Rice, Francis Piner, Louis J. da Massa, Walter N. Kelly, Joseph E. Pendergast, Alfred P. Collins, John W. Henderson, Carl Stroven, Felly Cunningham, Herbert J. SACRAMENTO, March 23.— During debate yesterday on the proposed constitutional amendment for verdicts by three-fourths of the membership of juries, Senator Newton M. Allen arose, apparently primed for a few shots at the anti-three-fourthers. "The people of Los Angeles,"

he began, solemnly, "have been troubled with an increasing crime wave ever since I've lived there-" That was as far as he got. When the laughter subsided, Allen briefly explained he was for the amendment.

Lost Heir Game Frank Is Told On Knave Page

HOW the old "lost heir" game is being played in San Francisco, a story of romance, credulity and easy money, will be re-lated by the Knave in Sanday's TRIBUNE.

It is the tale of a fictitious "Bishop" and of a dream estate of $130,000,000. There has been nothing like it since Anneke Jans. The Civis League, once a power in politice, is to reorganize. Polities are popping with a deadlock on in the mayoralty race and some prospects for a warm contest for district attorner.

The Knave discusses men and affairs, from prize fighters to financial wizards. I. the Sunday TRIBUNE.

said, was physical strength. He had seen battles fought between the teacher and various pupils to see who would run the school, had seen big boys clubbed into insensibillity and little boys birched until the blood came through their shirts. In the navy, at the time he entered it, he said, conditions were better than this, but not very much better, Discipline was all by punishment and the men were told that it was not their business to think, but to do as they were told, There was little initiative possible under such a system, he said. All this was changed, Sims declared, by President Roosevelt when he announced his famous dictum that "the only shots that count are the ones that hit." and made it known that no captain or inferior officer could hepe for promotion unless his ship could hit the target. The speaker added:

This made it necessary for the crew of every ship to become as perfect a team as possible, because they were thrown directly in the competition with every other ship in the navy. This condition brought about those two most important things -loyalty to the team and the development of personal initiative.

Sickness Keeps Dr. Wheeler From Day's Exercises

TODAY, for the first time in twenty-three years, Benjamin of the University of California, did not appear in the Charter Day exercises at the University.

The former chief executive of the university, recovering from an illness with which he was stricken about two months ago, remained confined at his home on orders of his doctor, Dr. Robert Legge, university physician, despite his entreaties that he be allowed to take part in the ceremonies.

Dr. Wheeler suffered an attack of influenza, and this malady, coupled with heart weakness, was regarded as serious by physicians. However, his condition today was said to be greatly improved, end according to Dr. Legge, the former president is expected to be bout as usual within a few weeks at the most.

you full of all kinds of information; they can help you develop a memory, but if that brain of yours does not utilize that information it will accomplish nothing. I know a great many grown-up people who have never decided anything for themselves to this day and never will. "Let me give you a parallel. Once when I was on an ocean-going ship, I slipped and broke my collarbone very badly. The doctor on board didn't know how to set it, but he managed to bandage it up in a crude way. The bones were lapped over more than an inch. I have a bump there today which will prevent me from ever wearing low neck and short sleeves. This is the point: After the arm was bound up for seven weeks and then released from its bandages, it was as straight as, a string. The muscles were gone. It had to be exercised to restore its usefulness. There are brains today like that arm. They have never been exefcised.

TELLS REVERSES OF OWN YOUTH.

I will give you something more of my own sad case. I had a brain once pretty much the same as that arm. I can assure you that I have never recovered completely. I went to school with a brother, a year or so older than I. He was an unusual individual who loved mathematics, and he went away ahead of his classes because he liked the work. He tried to inspire me with the same passion, but he didn't succeed. He told me every day how to do .ay lessons, and tried to explain the reasons for doing things. I told him I didn"t have time. I askand to multiply. I said I wanted to get out as fast as I could. Until I was 17 I was never away from him a day. He was constantly doing my sums for me. The day came when I was to take the examinations for entering the naval academy. Unfortunately I failed in every one and I didn't get in. Shortly after I arrived bome my father received a communication from the superintendent of the navy academy and a copy of a letter which the superintendent wrote to the Congressman who had recommended me, saying: "Don't send back that boy. Send me one who is more promising."

POLITICAL PULL GOT ANOTHER CHANCE.

For certain political reasons I was given another chance and I just scraped in. I inhabited what is called the "wooden section," and I never pulled out in the four years I was there from the middle of the class. When I was engaged to be married, this brother of mine, who is industriously honest, wrote to my fiances and told her I had always been a dull boy.

If these experiences of an old man will help you I will be glad. My advice to you is to use your own brains. Use them independently. Don't begin tomorrew. Begin teday. Make your own decisions and keep them up. No physical instructor can develop your muscles. He can give you exercises to do, but you have got to keep them up. It is the same with your brain. Knowledge is of little use unless it is applied. It is better to work out a sum and get it wrong than to go to someone else and get it power, accomplished experience and knowledge are only equipmenttools. Your success depends on the way you apply them.

He concluded: The so-called civilized branches of the human race have had experience enough to establish a brotherhood of man, but that experience shows that they lack moral character. Their brains are largely crystalized. You boys and girls of today are the hope of the future. Democracy is on trial for its life, and you alone can save it. The colleges of today are supplying fresh young minds upon whom the hope of the nation rests.

Every college boy in the World success for the causes of justice and liberty. Each one of you today must feel yourselves equally responsible in the struggle for justice and liberty now going on in this country.

I hope that some of these the Speaker at the Charter Day Exercises Has Famous Predecessors.

BERKELEY, March 25 .- In recelving the honorary degree of dector of laws from the University of California today, Admirai William S. Sims, U. S. N., retired, was accorded the same honor for the twelfth time in his career. Other universities and colleges to similarly honor the naval officer are Harvard, Yale, Tufts, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Cambridge, McGill, Queens, Williams, Juanita and Union. The honorary degree of S. C. D. was conferred on Admiral Sims by the Stevens Institute of Technology in 1921.

Admiral Sims was educated at the United States Naval Academy graduating with the class of 1880. He was promoted through the various grades to the rank of rear admiral in 1917. He was promoted to the rank of admiral in December, 1918, at which time he had command of the American naval forces operating in European waters. He reverted to the rank of rear admiral upon the relinquishment of this command at the end of hos-tilities. He was president of the Naval War College both before and after the United States entered into the World war.

As speaker at today's fifty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the University of California, Admiral Sims follows in the footsteps of other distinguished men.

Among the former Charter Day speakers were Theodore Roose-velt, Honorable James Bryce, Sir Auckland Geddes, British Am-bassador to the United States, and Frank C. Lowden, former governof Illinois.

DR. BARROWS PAYS TRIBUTE TO SIMS. Introducing Admiral Sims, President Barrows said: Admiral Sims, the speaker at this fifty-fifth anniversary of our establishment, is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy of the class of 1880. His life has been devoted to the efficiency of this country's naval service and to the preservation of its ancient spirit, the Spirit of Decatur, Perry, and of Farragut. Its best traditions he has ever set far above his own peace. security or reward. Under his persuasive counsel there was inspired and first attained the gunnery efficiency of the American navy. He was an influential advocate and introducer of the correci principles of command.

During his entire service as an officer he has been a teacher of young men, understanding their hearts, divining their best intents, and impelling them by counsel and example to discipline body service to their country and truth. He speaks today out of this wide and rewarding experi-

Retired Officer Championed by Berkeley Folk to Rep-

BERKELEY, March 23 .-- Nomination petitions are being circulated today for Brigadier General H. C. Haines as a candidate for director from Berkeley of the Municipal Utility District to be voted upon at a special election to be held May 8. General Haines was induced to become a candidate by delegation of Berkeley citizens presenting numerous civic bodies that have been conferring upon the choice of a candidate for some time. He is the first candidate in the field from this city for directorship in the proposed utility district, which includes Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Richmond and erritory contiguous to these cities. Among the sponsors of the candilacy of General Haines are: Lester Hink, William F. Morrish, Frank L. Naylor, Frank Thatcher,

Geo. L. Schneider, Matt. O. Lynch, Perry L. Tompkins, Charles Keeler, B. D. Marx Greene, Dr. A. B. Howe, Elmer E. Nichols, Neill Cornwall, E. J. Sinclair, Neil E. Munro and Dr. Roy I. Woolsey. General Haines, who was only ecently retired from the United States marine corps, where he had served since 1883, has been a resident of Berkeley for twelve years. His last four years in the service of the United States were spent in Washington, D. C., where, at the time of his retirement last year, he was head of the adjutant and inspector's department of the marine corps with the rank of brigadier general. He returned to his home in Berkeley last year and is now

GENEVA. (By mail to United Press):-All hopes of any serious permanent reduction in the cost of living would seem to be shatter *d by the latest world-wide statisties of the International Labor

These show a very marked tendency in all countries for the present general level of prices to

While during the past year there have been fluctuations, both up and down, in various countries every indication is that the present general level of prices is going to become stabilized for the future.

In a rough way, this means that the future cost of living in England is going to be more than 100 per cent what it was before the war in France, over 300 per cent more; in Italy, over 400 per cent more, and in other countries, according to local conditions and according to the amount of paper currency which each country has

The general statistics of the International Labor Bureau show that throughout 1921 there was a marked reduction in the cost of living in nearly all countries. This continued through a good part of 1922, only to be followed by a new tendency upwards.

This increase was again in turn wiped out by a decrease and the general tendency the world over now is for the cost of living to stabilize around the lower figures that were reached in 1921 and 1922. As stated above, however these prices mean an increase of pre-war prices in the different

In Switzerland the cost of living, stabilizing has shown something of a decrease. The decrease there amounts to about 8 per cent.

The job of filling in ground behind the bulkhead for this street was finished by the big municipal dredge today, and the property will he turned over to the street dopartment for future paving. West Fourteenth, according to Mayor Davie, will be the future main traffic artery to the western waterfront. When the city ran its western bulkhead embankment up above mud-level, it left behind this embankment an enormous tract of flat tidelands, partially submerged by water. The dredge was ordered to build a street through this trace and gradually, as the dredge pumped sand out of the bay, the street has been formed, like a high levee rising out of the flat lands.

"I do not know when the new street will be paved," says Com-missioner W. J. Baccus of the street department. "The mud and sand of the new fill must be given plenty of time to dry and settle. looked rather dubious. He had his doubts if he had any pictures of himself. "But," he continued, "I can make that all right."

A zoft drawing pencil appeared magically in his fingers, and deftly he began to trace various figures on a square of drawing paper. As I looked on, the lines gradually began to take shape, until I could see the faint resemblance to a man. The pencil suddenly disappeared and its place was taken by a pen. This he dipped in India ink and with big, swift strokes blotted out the penciled lines with streaks of heavy black. A small paint brush put on the finishing touches. And, to and behold! there was the picture all finished, showing Gene Eyrnes. cartoonist at work with two "Reg'lar Fellers" on the edge of his desk.

The surprising part to me about the picture was the little time he did it in, not half an hour all told. I suppose that it is in a like manner that he puts out the funny strips for the daily papers."-By

Building Trades Convention Cheers Organizer Who Denonnecs Communists. SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March

8.--Appeal to members of the State Building Trades Council in convention here to guard themselves against advocates of a communist government, who work from within the ranks of labor, was voiced yesterday by J. B. Dale, organizer of the American Federation of Labor.

Delegates at the convention cheered Dale's address. "The communists seek to turn America over to sovietism," declared Dale. "It is the duty of every American within the ranks of organized labor to prevent this and stand jealous guard over the sacred traditions of the republic and to maintain its hanner, the Stars and Stripes, unspotted with the mud of Russia."
Invitation of the Sacramento Building Trades council to hold the tate convention in that city in 1924, will be considered today.

Alexander F. O'Grady, general counsel, gave his annual report, in which he told of 55 prosecutions for violations of the Cartwright act during the year. Walter J. Matthewson, California state labor commissioner, told the convention that he had successfuly adjusted 1200 claims for unpaid wages during January, 1923. He sald $45,000 positions for workers had been secured during 1922 through the free state employment Various speakers reviewed the

There is no denying the rights of representation. If the situation which exists in a number of counties of California is to be corrected plon a champion is to keep him out there must be established separate boards for so in the days when Peter Fitzurse high school and common school districts, or a larger unit, as the county, must be recognized. It is a problem for the educator and one needing solution.

STRIPPING THE FIELDS.

One does not need the word of the astronomer or the calendar to know that Spring is here. The poppies are blooming on the hills and in the fields and the red buds are blossoming in the mountains.

The flowered announcement of the arrival of Spring has always been an invitation to the automobilist and the liker. The city has moved into the country, picnic spirit has been released and California's playgrounds have been used to the full.

There are so many joyous and beneficial features of the annual informal Spring festival reach from the grave of Thomas that word of complaint seems out of place. And yet if the present disregard of the State's flowers continues the time will soon approach when wild blossoms will be only a part of a He is a gentleman of the old story that is told. Those who have lived in stop when he gets started at that California as long as six years know what has sort of thing. been done to the poppies. They have been picked by the wholesale to load down automobiles and to give a day or two of color to stamp, and that we haven't printthe home. They have been picked by the hiker and carried over the trail antil they wilted and then have been left in testimony to the heedless attitude which is despoiling the slopes of their beauty.

No one argues against picking flowers. If the attempt was not made to pick all the flowers in sight, to break large limbs from the red bud trees, and to carry home huge loads of bloom it is probable the wild flowers would persist. Enough poppies should be left in every field to furnish seed for the next year.

There is no law to prevent the picking of wild flowers, except in the case of certain about it .- Another customer of plants. One house of the Oklahoma Assembly has passed a bill probibiling mention of evolution in State text books One house of the Wisconsin Legislature abolishes the National Guard. Then there are the Illinois boxing laws--all locoed legislation.

Pooleooms sometimes are a public unisance in Chi cago, not because the game is vicious, but because boys and men are gregatious and the peolroom is a place to gather. An idle gang can get some bad ideas and act on them, and some police activities are caused by this gregariousness. Gangs can gather also in cigar stores or in the alley,

MAGNESIA.

Milk of magnesia is a convenient mild alkali or antacid, somewhat less disagreeable than soda and not itself productive of gas when it reacts with the normal acid of the stomach, as soda does. But magnesia is somewhat more laxative than soda and is frequently given as a laxative, particularly to children, a teaspoonful or two of the milk of magnesia having a mild cathartic action which is accelerated in the presence of more than the usual amount of acid in stomach or intestine, as in the state of acidosis which accompanies many feverish conditions in children and which granny is willing to bet to Dentists sometimes prescribe the use of milk of magnesia for rinsing the mouth to neutralize abnormal acidity. It was a common practice a few years ago to add a spoonful of milk of magnesia to the baby's bottle once or twice a day, but this has been superseded by lime water and by oatmeal water or barley water. Better still, the ethics and ideals of motherhood are better now than they were a generation ago, and more mothers are giving their babies a square deal by nursing them as God intended.

Magnesium carbonate comes in cubes. In this form, magnesia is much used internally as an antacid in such conditions as heartburn, waterbrash (eructations of sour irritating fluid), sick headache and hyperacidity. Of course it is only a temporary relief at best. Probably magnesia should not be constantly taken internally, at any rate not for long periods, because there is some risk of accumulation of masses or concretions of it in the intestine. Magnesia cubes are sometimes used on the skin to prevent chafing.

Solution of magnesium citrate, prepared freshly by the pharmacist, is probably the least disagreeable of all saline cathartics, when a purgative of that kind is required. The bottle contains twelve ounces; an adult may take it all in one or two doses, or for a child a wineglassful may be given every two hours. This saline purgative is to be preferred when the thought of ordinary salts is repulsive.

Finally there is old Mag Sulph Magnesium Sulphate is her full name, alias Epsom Salts, but effectionately dubbed Mag. Sulph. or just Maggie. There is an aura of omance and mystery about Magie, something like that which surrounds Cleopatra since the movies liscovered her, but all hokum aside, Mag is still a faithful old standby in a pinch, if one's stomach is strong. She is worthy of her suburban sobriquet, too, the fine saits. Iowever, in my The sparrows twitter on the should never exceed two cents per annum, and the administration of the two cents' worth should be wholly in the hands of the family doctor.

> All of the magnesium preparations have a certain inhibitory action upon the nervous system, provided the medicine is applied to nerve tissues. Epsom Salts injected into the blood will produce paralysis of the entire body. Hypodermic injection of Epsom Salts produces deep sleep with complete muscular relaxation. Once in a while very grave polsonous effect of similar kind occurs when Epsom Salts is taken too freely.

LONDON, March 23 .- (By the Associated Press.)—The House of Lords last night, after an amusing debate, agreed to a motion offered by Lord Newton in favor of reducing the membership of the house. Lord New-ton urged that the house was double the size of any other secand chamber in the world and that a large number of the members scarcely ever attended the debates; they were always more likely to be found on the race courses than the upper chamber and the bulk of the talking was done by some 50 or 60 members. He contended that the house could easily get rid of half of its members without anyone being aware of the operation. Marquis Curzon agreed that the house was too large, but agreed that the question could not be dealt with only by a reform measure. It is not considered likely that anything will come of the Newton motion.

Saturday evening Morch 24th will mark the completion and public opening of one of the most distinctive buildings in Oakland, not only in exterior appearance but in interior arrangement and equipment, and comprising a successful combination of stores,

Credit for the conception and erection of this building, on one of the best located corners in Central Oakland, is due to the courage and foresight of the owner, George E. Hoffschneider.

He has "set the pace," for future construction in this locality, and satisfied himself that he has filled a need, since all stores were leased and occupied by high-class tenants, before the entire build-

Any construction undertaken for Mr. Hoffschneider would necessarily be of the best of materials and built to last. The foundations and framing are stronger than ordinarily used in this type of building and this fact in connection with the substantial strength, evident in its appearance, coupled with the thought given to the exterior design, carries to the passerby the message of the owner to the community, that another structure, that is not "just a building," is added to Oakland, "the world's most beautiful

Every foot of space has been designed to provide the greatest convenience and comfort for its tenants and therefore no "stock or standard plan" has been used. The stores, eight in number, have maximum lighting and show-window space. In the fitting of their interiors, beauty as well as utility has been considered.

On the ground floor, is a large assembly room suitable for lodge or community entertainments, thus supplying a long-felt want in

The entrance to the apartments and offices is particularly inviting with the protection afforded by the large glass covered marquise. Plate glass and marble paneling has been effectively used in the doorway. The massive mahogany stair rail gives a pleasing note of contrast to the bright coloring, in the walls and ceilings of the spacious public halls; this treatment of halls is an innovation for Oakland, but has met with favor in the east and south.

As a matter of fact, when we want things done we turn to the busiest man in town. He never seems hurried, his desk is always clean and he can make it appear that you are doing him a favor in

This is the effect of concentration, poise and a genial temper, a trinity of qualities as rare as they are invaluable.

· Years ago, in Chicago, there was a saloon keeper answering to the name of Jake who was locally celebrated for the fact that he never got excited.

Probably, on Jake's part, this was a desirable quality, because his establishment stood in a tough district. Shooting affrays, slugging bees, stabbings and gang battles were matters of common occurrence. Sometimes there would be an outbreak in Jake's har, but through it all the proprietor would maintain his habitual Teutonic calm. He even maintained it as he waded in with a bung-starter to restore order. .

One night there was a real tragedy at Jake's. One man had pital and another was badly shot up. The affray occurred at so late an hour that the morning papers carried merely the bare

Dog Dignity

Dandy--Is a poor man's dog-But doesn't seem to worry much-Nor wish for collar made of gold-Nor velvet blanket-Like dogs belonging to the rich-He is content with just a bone-And when he finds one on the dumps-That isn't more than six months old-His eyes will dance in doggish glee-And he will hold it proud aloft-And run beneath the summer porch— Then make a noise just like a human gormand—. His name is known by every child-That lives within his neighborhood-And he is on the job whene'er they call him-He's always ready for a romp-He knows the game of hide and seek-And likes the kids that always want to play it-Just how he lives and grew so strong— Upon his meager bill o-fare—

I guess because he runs so much— And keeps so jolly all the day— And seems so thankful when he gets A juicy bone from some back door-For that helps out a lot— And such a life will build a healthy human-But yesterday while on my rounds-I saw old Dandy with a bone-And he seemed very willing to divide it-With austere Bull who sat in gloom-Upon the front seat of a purring car-And Dandy laid his dry bone down-Then smiled in such a friendly way-As if to say-"Come on-old top-Let's you and me just have a dandy banquet"-But nothing doing with the bull-This sour-faced son of blue-blood stock— He always had his warm French chops— Each day for lunch—and plenty of them— Why should he stoop to gnaw a bone with menial cur?— Then Dandy seemed to sense the snub-And bared his teeth and issued challenge-

Is far beyond me-

That brought the bull from off the seat-With fur arising-And such a scrap-let no man say the bulldog flunked-For I am here to say he didn't-But cushioned life and warm French chops— Won't build a man nor build a dog-When rough and ready is the going-So in the end the sturdy life-The meagre fare—the cheerful heart— That fitted Dandy for the fray-Brought home the bacon— And Mr. Bull crawled on his seat-With dignity and breath all gone—or very near it— While Dandy took his bone beneath the porch—

The ones who rule life's husky roles-

Permanent Play Proposed to Celebrate Establishment of Missions in State.

SONOMA, March 23. - Plans for the Sonoma Mission Centenrial celebration are rapidly maturing. A permanent executive committee headed by W F. Clewe and consisting of Walter Bundschift, R. E. Perkins, F. M Burris, Thomas Hollabaugh, Fred Batto Thomas Baines, F. Bulotte, J M Minges and others met this week and hired J. N. Reed of Sacramento to direct the four-day fiests.

June 30 to July 4 It is proposed to fourd a So-oma Mission play, which will have its first production at the mission here July 1, and will then become a permanent institut or to be revived about every three Garnet Holme, writer and producer of pageants, was in Sonom last Saturday and Sunday looking the ground for the play, which he believes will bring fame to Northern California and attract attention to the natural advantages which led Padie Altemira one hundred years ago to select this locanty for the last and most northeriv of California missions The pageant writer, after viewing several spots whereon to duce the play, finally selected the mission uself, in front of which the dramatic story of the mission's founding will be enacted It is planned to build an im-mense open air stadium for the celebration on the ground hal-lowed in 1823 by the coming of the paires.

Californian Leaves Former Sweetheart

Forty years or so ago Mrs. Elizabeth Elmer Baily, of this city, and Lewis Wallace were child-hood sweethearts. Then events separated them.

Today, after thirty years of silence, Mrs. Bailey has received word that she is the principal legatee of Wallace, who, dying recently in California, left her his extensive fruit farm and ranching properties, worth a small fortunie.

When 15 years old, Mrs. Bailey was the playmate and sweet-heart of Wallace. As affection grew and deepened came anxlety, also, to the boy. He had no money; the solution was to make his fortune and that quickly. The wisdom of Horace Greeley had summed up in a few words, destined to become a saying, the trend of the times—"Go West, young man, go West!" And Lewis left, young and ardent and optimistic, to return some day to take a blushing bride there with him, or perhaps to stay here.

For two years he wrote regularly, and Elizabeth answered. silence ensued, and lasted for 35 years, without even a ru-mor or a chance word breight by any roundabout way to relieve it.

Silence was broken by the curt and formal-looking letter which briefly stated that Elizabeth Elmer—Mrs. Bailey's maiden name-was legatee to a fine fruit ranch, with broad acreage.

COQUIMBO, Chile, March 13. (By the Associated Press).— Captain Campbell of the steamer Martha, who has just returned here from a lobster fishing exnedition to the uninhabited islands of San Ambrosso and San Felix, which lie in the Pacific ocean about 300 miles west of liamatai, suja täät Sa when nearing San Felix, the Murtha met with a tidal wave 35 meters high, which rose from a

Arriving at San Felix, Captain Campbell noticed that the island was much smaller than it had been on previous trips. Anchoring, he found the water tepid and the rock bottom changed to sand. Heavy sulphur gases per-vaded the air on landing, he found sea fowl dead in nests, and thousands of dead fish covering the island. Lobsters. which previously had been abundant, were scarce.

The captain is of the opinion that the earthquake of last November and subsequent shocks had their center near San Felix and San Ambrosso, both of which are now completely barren of animal life. He said that while he was on the island of San Felix earth tremors were frequent. It is recalled here that, on March 4, the date on which the Martha encountered the tidal wave, similar phenomena were experienced in several north

When women talk of baking, Calumet makes new friends

TELICIOUS cake—a friendly discussion of its ingredients over the teacups, has led thousands of women to change to Calumet. These women who formerly made no distinction between baking powders know now -that success in baking is a matter of baking powder-not luck.

-that Calumet not only raises dough, but that the scientific composition and the white of egg keep it from falling.

-that it may be depended upon always for light, tender, tasteful baking.

If you have not been uniformly successful in baking try Calumet in your favorite recipe.

ST. MARY'S BASEBALL TEAM TO PLAY SECOND GAME WITH ZAMLOCH'S MEN AT BER

Rival Collegians Who Wield a Wicked Warclub

The meeting of St. Mary's and California on the diamond at Berkeley tomorrow will be one of the feature games of the collegiate baseball season in these parts. Both teams are composed of heavy stickers for college tossers and with good chucking on the part of the rival pitchers the game should develop p into a pitchers' buttle. A few of the notable sluggers who hit the pill often and far are shown here. On the left is "DUCKY" GRANT, star second sacker and one of the fastest men on the St. Mary's team. "RED" ROONEY, leadoff man, a nifty fielder and a dangerous hitter, is shown in the center, while

"THEE" BILL, lanky second sacker and one of the most reliable of the Blue and Gold batters, is shown on the right.

CALIFORNIA TRACK TEAM IN SHAPE FOR OLYMPIC CLUB MEET

Bruin Runners to Make First Appearance on Home Oval in Fast Company Tomorrow; Prospects Favor Blue and Gold.

By DOUG. MONTELL.

If California's track athletes run according to comparative dope, based on a glance at the results of the Stanford-Olympic Club and U. S. C. California meets of last week, the Bruins should entertain home fans with a win by a margin of close to twentyfive points tomorrow afternoon on the Berkeley oval, California, entering more men than in the south, improving after an additional week of work, improving still further through correcting a few obvious mistakes, will be infinitely stronger than against U. S. C.

The Olympic Club should add strength to their ranks for the meet with California and may surprise with greater strength than expected in the field.

All of which makes the opening meet in these parts more or less of a gamble as to the final score. but Ab the Bruins to win even is Walt Christic has to don track pants and run the 100-yard dash.

Bears Figure 25 Points Better.

In the first place, basing opinion on the two meets last week, Califormia figures exactly 25 points stronger, 78-55. That is figuring the Winged "O" stars to take the seven first places their strength against Stanfold showed them to

While it is far from certain that Winged "O" men will break the tape in the 100, 220 and 440, these sprint events, for the sake of argument, are listed for the transbay clubmen. With Dorr out the Winged "O" should crash over with the two-mile event. Flint Hanner looms as a javelin winner, with the veteran McGurn good for the shot

California clearly has the advantage in second and thirds, and unless new recruits swell the Olympic club entry list these places will put the Bears over nicely.

Sprints Should

Be Big Feature. Sudden will be the man for Shepard to beat in the century, while O'Brien will be the gentleman to cause California supporters worry in the 220 and 440. ## Guisto Wields Mean Club But Misses Cushion

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 23. The failure of Louis Guisto, Stuffy McInnis' successor on the Cleveland baseball club, to touch first base beat him out of a home run and was the principal reason for the Indians' defeat, 4 to 3, by the Cincinnati Reds at Orlando, Fla., yesterday, according to advices received here. ## Baseball and Fighting to Clash in N. Y.

Glants and Yankees to Stage Bouts at Their Ball Yards.

By DAVIS J. WALSH: International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW TORK, March 23 .- With the two New York baseball clubs engaged in a polite form of business throat-cuiting in the promoting of boxing bouts at their respective flelds, it will be interesting to note the effect on baseball in general and the fourteen other major league clubs in particular. The Willard-Johnson affair, for example, with Luis Firpo on the same program, is scheduled for the aftermoon of May 12 at the Yankee ztadium.

Just how many customers will the Giants and Pirates attract to the Polo Grounds across the river on the same afternoon? The turnstiles shall not click that day. The Giants' reply is the Kilbane-Criqui match for the featherweight chempionship June 2, a bout they hope to put on in spite of edicts to the contrary by the boxing commission. If the affair is held the Yanks and their major league guests of the Ameday will suffer. These are only two day. of an imposing list of championship and semi-championship bouts to be held at the ball parks during the outdoor season. Nearly all of them will be scheduled for Saturday and holiday afternoons, thus striking at the very heart of base-

Is Owner of An Iron Chin

French Featherweight Due to Arrive in New York This Afternoon.

By HENRY L. FARRELLA.
United Press Staff Correspondent,
NEW YORK, March 13.—Eugene Origid may never have heard in his native French the old gag of how the cup is inclined to slip, but he will get the full American effect of the logic when he arrives here

The French featherweight champion comes here with the design and a contract to fight Johnny Kilbane for the world's championship. Kilbane and a large number of customers are willing that the Frenchman be accommodated, but the boxing commission is out with a negative shake of the head. Since William Muldoon tired with the dilatory tactics of the Irishman and threw him in the pugilistic "jug" Johnny Dundee, the junior lightweight champion, has been looked upon as the featherweight champion of New York.

HAS NO LICENSE. Kilbane hasn't a license, but that is through no workings of the commission. Johnny took the position that the commission could not tell and he never applied for one of its permits to fight in New York. The commission would not say today that the Kilbane-Criqui Handicap ...... 24 fight could not be held here, but a strong intimation was released that 56? the bout was very improbable. Tom O'Rourke signed up Kilbane and Criqui, and when the little hitch grose Tex Rickard was quick 540 to take an indirect slap at his

It is said that a shell took away part of his jaw when he was at the front and that the bone was replaced with aluminum, which gives him a virtual iron jaw.

Most of the European critics over-estimate their fighters, but they confidently believe Criqui can beat Kilbane. As to Dundee, per-haps they have never seen him, and he has to be seen to be appre-

Eugene Criqui | Four Californians Will Play Infield for Cincy

-The Reds have been training now for a trifle more than two weeks, and the team is fully coming up to the expectations of Manager Pat Moran, who is more than satisfied with the way in which the players are taking hold of their work. The entire outfit is here with the exception of Captain Jake Daubert, who is ill with pneumonia at his home in Pennsylvania, and will not be able to come south.

In fact, it is doubtful whether Jake will be in condition to join the club before the opening of the championship season, April 17. His place at first base is being taken by Fonseca, who finished the season at second base last year and led the team in hitting. The rest of the regulars, barring Eddie Roush, are in line and moving along nicely. Saminy Boine will play second, Babe Pinelli third, and Jimmy Caveny shortstop. Jimmy and Babe are clever base runners, and the former, who was handicapped by chronic injuries in 1922, is in fine condition and seems to be a greatly improved bullplayer. The outfield will consist of Dunean in left, Harper in center, and Bruns in right. Roush is no longer considered, as he demands $25,000 for the season, and his

This was the farm labor situation at the opening of spring as summed up by George E. Tucker, field director of the United States farm labor bureau in an interview

"The spring boom will miss the farmer: while industry is enjoying a general boom, he will be velling modly for hired help," declared Tucker, whose observations were based on a nation-wide survey of farm labor conditions.

"There is not a general labor shortage, but the tarmer is being outhed in the labor market by employers in other lines. They are offering wages he cannot afford "The farmers' ontlook is brighter, but it is relatively discourage ing. He will be forced to pay higher wages, for his labor with out prospects of a proportionale increase in returns for his crops."

This bill gives the commission general supervisory powers and control over certified bonds or expenditure of funds arising therefrom or the construction work to be paid for therewith. In other words, the entire irrigation program of the state is now under the general supervis-ory control of this new commission headed by the governor. No contract involving an-obligation on the part of an irrigation district in excess of 35000 shall become binding until approved by the Certification Commission, and any payment under such contract by the Board of Directors shall be unlawful until after

same has been so approved.

Another new law provides that any county treasurer having in his custody or control funds of an irrigation district shall be responsible therefor on his official bond as county treasurer.

SIGNIFICANT LAW. A significant enactment is one that permits the holder of a certificate of delinquency for taxes on property within irrigation or drainage districts to foreclose the same within one year from the first day of delinquency.

The legislature also authorized a commission to make a careful examination of the business affairs and finances of the state's irrigation districts. This commission has been appointed and consists of W. D. B. Dodson, secretary of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, Jefferson Myers, and A. B. Baldwin, a banker of Prineville.

The appointment of this commission will inspire public confidence in the necessity for irrigation fievelopment, and the entire irrigation factor in the state's development will be greatly strengthened. state, by reason of these laws has now become a part of and responsible for the proper development of irrigation in the state.

> Negotiations for the sale of the steamer Rose City to the Pacific Steamship company have been delaved through contract agreements, according to announcement today by H. M. Adams, vice-president of the Union Pacific. The Union Pacific interests, at the behest of Portland commercial organizations, are holding out for assurances from Pacific Steamship company, the would-be purchaser, that service between Portland and San Francisco will be maintained on a par with that from Puget Sound.

Schedule.

After a three-weeks visit to California, H. F. Alexander, president of the Pacific Steamship company. makes the prediction that this summer would be remarkable for the largest travel in the history of the West.

A declaration that it would be the policy of his company not to intrude in the commerce of Seattle if his investments were not wanted there, made by Captain Robert Dollar last night at a meeting of the Alaska comittee of the Scattle rai and Southern portions of the Pacific slope, while a storm moving southeastward from the North Pacific is giving eloudy weather in the North Pacific states, with rain in Northwestern Washington Rain site of the war-time Skinner & site of the war-time Skinner & has fallen from the Central Mississippi valley northeestward. ## HUBERI WAKWIUN Dean of Oakland Lamp Posts, Hid By Vines, Dug Up

The dean of gas lamp posts of Oakland, installed in 1872, was dug up today by the street department at Valley and Twenthe corporation yard, where it will be held as a relic.

The lamp post, rusted and warped, was standing amid vines and ivy-clumps and came to light when street department officials started laying a new curb and gutter. The age of the post was established by its number, still visible through the

Consider a grand piano seriously for your home

A grand piano presides over a room like a gracious hostess.

Whether a "baby grand," compact and exquisite, or a great, mellow "concert grand," it breathes:

"I am quality. I am refinement. I am dignity and beauty and abiding charm."

We have a wonderful collection of grand pianos on our floors this week.

Some may rumble: "I am too nuge." Some may whisper: "I am too tiny."

But ONE will plead: "I am beauty. I am charm. Ah, let me glorify just YOUR home." Do not feel that this winsome Grand piano of your choice is beyond your means. Some grands (new) are as low as $595. Very comfortable terms can be arranged on any instrument. Your present piano will count liberally in the exchange.

Come in now, while we still have intact the greatest selection of grand pianos in our history.
